NACA's Victoria Jackson Gray Adams Freedom & Democracy School II (NACA's VJGAF&D II) is currently accepting applications for the 2009–2010 school year. NACA's VJGAF&D II is the newest addition to the NACA family of award-winning Freedom and Democracy Schools. This progressive and tuition free public charter school will provide a new option for 6th through 12th grade education for Baltimore City students and is currently accepting applications (for grades 6 & 9) for the 2009–2010 school year.

The mission of NACA's VJGAF&D II is to develop enlivened and enlightened students who are capable of not only making a living for themselves but who are also able to create a life. We are committed to helping our country move to ever-higher levels of humanity by providing a rigorous, exemplary and innovative curriculum that emphasizes academic excellence, advanced character development, and freedom and democracy. Our commitment and approach enables students to navigate life's journey effectively and with integrity; AND it helps them gain a strong awareness of themselves, their possibilities, their families, their communities and the world that surrounds them.

The ultimate goal of NACA's VJGAF&D II – with strong parental involvement and community support – is to touch students deeply, so that they demonstrate academic excellence, intellectual strength, and solid/dynamic citizenship.

A maximum of eighty (80) 6th grade students and eighty (80) 9th grade students (with no more than 20 students in each classroom) will be admitted to the school for the 2009–2010 school year. Interested parents and students should REGISTER and ENROLL NOW. If the number of students applying exceeds the number of spaces available, a public lottery will determine who is admitted.
